BRAKE

Brake's helpline is a quality accredited, freephone support service, providing information and advocacy, emotional support and a listening ear. Calls are confidential and there is no time limit to our support.

To speak to our friendly and professionally trained helpline team, call 0808 8000 401, or contact us via email at helpline@brake.org.uk. The helpline is open from 10am to 4pm Monday to Friday. Helpline support is provided in English by trained and experienced professionals.

The helpline provides support for UK residents in the following circumstances:

- if you have been bereaved or seriously injured in a crash
- if you are caring for someone bereaved or seriously injured in a crash
- if you are a professional, such as a police officer, teacher or health worker, wanting advice about how to help people affected by a crash

We will provide support whether the crash was recent or a long time ago, and whether it occurred in this country or abroad.

HOPE

Hope is a support group run by South Yorkshire Fire and Rescue Service offering a meeting and support structure for people who have lost someone through a fire, road traffic accident or any other traumatic death incident. The group provides telephone and email support to individuals and can offer one-to-one visits as well as arranging regular support group sessions where both individuals and families can meet and share with others who have experienced similar circumstances.
